COTTON RECEIPTS NEARLY 10,000

At the beginning of the season the most optimistic figured on the cotton receipts of Ada being around 8,000 or 9,000 bales. However, it is a pleasant surprise to see the figures mount far above that estimate. At 9 o'clock this morning the figures at the county weigher's yard stood at 8,567. The round bale gin had turned out 1,851 equal to 926 square bales. This brings the total for the season up to 9,493 bales. There is some seed cotton stored at the gins and with what is yet to come John Ward, the county weigher, feels safe in making an estimate of 11,000 for the season. Last year only about 5,800 bales were received here.

The reports from other towns show Ada to be the second best market in the state, Ardmore being first.

Republicans Gain Representative.

Hobart, Ok., Nov. 25.—John D. Appleby, chairman of the Kiowa county republican committee, says that Attorney George Zink of Hobart has been elected to the lower house of the Third Legislature by a majority of 116 over his democratic opponent, J. V. McClintic. This will be the first time Kiowa ever had a republican in the Legislature, although Omer K. Benedict, now of the Oklahoma City Times, ran within seven votes of election seven years ago.

GIRL MUST SERVE TEN YEAR SENTENCE

Guthrie, Nov. 25.—Ten years in the penitentiary is the price that Ethel Gray, a pretty Muskogee girl in whose veins mingle the blood of Scotch Highlanders and Cherokee chieftains, must pay for attempting to save her lover from the gallows by swearing a false alibi for him. Her sentence for ten years for perjury was affirmed by the criminal court of appeals here. The girl's lover was John Ceiloha, one of the four defendants in the notorious Frisco bridge murder case at Muskogee, when the old bridge watchman was robbed and brutally murdered.

The girl attempted to save Ceiloha from a probable death sentence by swearing that he was with her at the time the murder was committed three miles away. The state proved she lied and prosecuted her for perjury. Ceiloha got a life sentence.

TEGELER ASKS FOR POSTPONEMENT

Oklahoma City, Nov. 25.—An application for a continuance of the case of the state against Rudolph Tegeler was filed by Attorney Moman Pruett in the district court Friday morning. Judge George W. Clark has passed ruling upon the application until the conclusion of the Woodson murder case now being tried before him.

The petition asks for an extension of time from five to thirty days, changing the original setting of the cause from December 5 to a date after December 10. It sets out that Attorney Pruett is interested as counsel in the case of Tennessee against W. S. White, charged with murder and docketed for trial at Memphis, Tenn.

Farmer is Independent.

The farmer is the man of the hour, says the Texas Commercial Secretaries' association. Banks may fail, factories may close and panics may come, but the farmer is on the right side of the ledger and has nothing to fear. If he has looked ahead and planned as he plowed, his alternating crops, his winter vegetables and his hogs will not only safeguard him against the ever increasing cost of living, but will enable him to wind up the year with a snug bank account to his credit.

MUSKOGEE MAKES OFFER FOR CAPITAL

Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 25.—Muskogee offers a $1,000,000 bonus and a free site for the location of the state capital here, which is to be threshed out at Oklahoma City by the legislature in special session Monday. Major H. B. Spaulding, secretary of the Commercial Club, Muskogee county representatives and state senator, and representatives of the business interests will go to Oklahoma City to make Muskogee's offer.

The Water Situation.

The compress and all of the gins expect to keep going in spite of the lack of water from the city supply. The compress, we are told, will get its water from the ice factory well, and the gins will haul water. It is to be hoped, however, that a good rain will come within a few days and put everything to rights again.

CRUCE GIVES ADVICE TO LEGISLATORS

Oklahoma City, Nov. 25.—Governor-elect Lee Cruce, of Ardmore, arrived in the city last night from his home and will remain here until Sunday morning when he departs for Frankfort, Ky., to attend the conference of governors to which he has been invited. After the conference adjourns Mr. Cruce will visit his former home in the Blue Grass state and return to Oklahoma early in December. His only important engagement in the state between that date and the inauguration will be as a guest of a college fraternity banquet in Oklahoma City the night of Dec. 22.

At his room in the Lee-Huckins last night, Mr. Cruce received many callers from among the ranks of the dominant party in the state, among them being members of the legislature who came to express their congratulations on account of the victory of Nov. 8, and to pledge the second governor their support during their incumbency as a part of the next administration.

"I shall expect," Mr. Cruce told members of the legislature, "that the legislature will give the governor its support in all matters of importance when they believe the governor to be right. I expect a harmonious administration and I feel grateful to those members of the legislature who have pledged their support to that end. We want to be absolutely fair in our deliberations, business-like in our judgment and do only those things that will be to the best interests of the state."

Mr. Cruce, a native of Kentucky, has been informed that he is the twenty-seventh native of that state to be elected governor of another state. Missouri probably leads the list in that regard.

LEGISLATORS GATHERING AT OKLAHOMA CITY

Oklahoma City, Nov. 25.—When members of the state legislature meet at noon Monday to consider the capital location question, a bill will be in readiness for their consideration. Democratic leaders, Governor C. N. Haskell, W. A. Ledbetter and other attorneys representing the state and the governor are rewriting the document and expect to complete it Friday.

Members of the incoming legislature and holdovers began to arrive in Oklahoma City Friday and everything is in readiness for the house and senate caucuses Saturday.

The senate will meet on the fifth floor of the Levy building, Hudson and Main, at 10 o'clock and the house caucus will be held at 3 o'clock on the sixth floor of the same building.

J. B. Thompson, former state chairman of the democratic party, and senator from Pauls Valley, is slated for the chairmanship of the senate caucus, with J. Roy Williams of Lawton as presiding officer at the house caucus. Thompson may preside over the senate at the special session, owing to the illness of Lieutenant-Governor George W. Bellamy.

W. B. Anthony, private secretary to Governor Haskell and representative from Stephens county, is slated for the speakership of the house. Thompson's and Anthony's candidacies probably will be affirmed at the caucuses Saturday.

Among the legislators already here are Daniel O. Perry of Carnegie, Perry Miller of Muskogee county, A. F. Vandeventer of Tulsa and Washington county, J. W. Clark of Atoka county, W. A. Durant of Durant, who is slated for the speakership of the house at its regular session, and G. M. Christian of Anadarko.

Entertainment at Center.

Prof. W. T. Melton, principal of the Center School, and one of the most able young teachers of the county, informs us that on Wednesday evening his school gave an exhibition that was highly successful, and well attended by the patrons of the district.

Saturday Crowd.

The Saturday crowd has been about its usual size and trade has appeared brisk throughout the town.

TRANQUILITY PREVAELS IN MEXICO

Friday's advices from Mexico strengthen the claim of the government that the disturbances are thoroughly under control. No fighting in any part of the republic was reported yesterday and the general tenor of the advices from the interior is that peace reigns everywhere.

Passengers arriving at border points from the interior report little trouble and are inclined to believe the many stories of fighting exaggerated. The presidents of railroad lines traversing Mexico also minimize the disturbances and say that there has been very little interruption of traffic.

The whereabouts of Francisco Madero is not known and the report that he was wounded in a recent engagement with Federal troops is unconfirmed.

Both Mexico and the United States are still keeping armed men on their respective borders and these are keeping a close watch on the situation. Practically all of the Mexican troops sent from posts are still at points where their services have been in demand.

Failed to Vote for Himself.

Okmulgee, Okla.—The fact that Judge A. J. Russell refused to follow custom and vote for himself has caused him to lose the office which he now holds. The race for justice of the peace is a remarkable one in that the official vote gives three of the four candidates the following vote: Risor 310 votes; Spencer 309; Russell, 308.

Hunter was the fourth man in the race with less than 200 votes.

Judge Russell does not believe that a man should vote for himself, so he went to the polls and cast his ballot for Risor and Spencer. If he had voted for himself and Spencer, he would have had 309, Spencer 308 and Risor 309. He and Risor would have won the two offices.

If he had not voted for justice of the peace at all, he and Spencer would have been tied with 308.

Today Judge Russell's friends are roasting him generously for not voting for himself. But he says that he is glad that he cast his vote for the others, as he does not believe in a man voting for himself.

Before he went to the polls, he was told that he ought to stamp before his own name, as he might need that vote. It turned out that he did.

A Joke Somewhere.

A day or two ago Attorney W. C. Edwards received a draft from some firm in Memphis on an Ada party for collection. In the letter accompanying it the explanation was given that they sent it to him because there were no banks or attorneys at Ada, but that he had been highly recommended as a collector.

TOLSTOI.

Press dispatches tell of the deep sorrow among the poor of Russia occasioned by the death of Count Tolstoy, their best friend. Well they might weep because of his death. For half a century he devoted his life, his fortune and his talents to the service of the oppressed. He displayed more courage than the general who charges at the head of his squadrons in battle, for he became an outcast from the high circles in which his birth and fortune placed him. He braved a government that shows no mercy to the man who dares to protest against its tyranny, sacrificing everything in the effort to uplift his suffering fellows.
No monument will be reared to his memory by the hands of those who delight to honor men who won laurels on the field of battle, but to Tolstoi the tears of one humble peasant who felt the pang of parting with his best friend would mean more than all the towering monuments of marble that could be erected by human hands. These will be crumbled to dust by the storms of ages, but the memory of Tolstoi will be fresh in the memory of his fellow men when those whose deeds are recorded on the face of a granite monument have faded into oblivion.

A man without principle may run along with apparent ease for many years but the end is always the same. He imagines he is deceiving his fellows, and his prestige may be sufficient to cause them to conceal from him the fact that they are not as blind as he thinks them, and from policy they may say nothing for a time, but hour after hour the fire of public opinion is slowly eating itself into the very heart of the tree, until at last when a storm strikes it falls. Public opinion may be slow but when it once asserts itself that man is irretrievably ruined and what he thought was a short cut to fame or fortune proves to be only the short cut to disgrace and oblivion.

City Engineer Ekman is busy preparing his estimates of the cost of the Byrd's Mill waterworks extension and as soon as he makes his report the council will take action looking to the issuance of the bonds necessary for the work. The idea of getting this supply of water has grown in favor from time it was first mentioned, and now that we have a very expensive lesson before us, there should be little trouble in getting the bonds voted. It should be borne in mind that these bonds will pay for themselves and may make a handsome profit for the city besides.

less, perchance, their wives insist on imparting this knowledge to them instead of going ahead and doing the milking while the men take it easy.

MORE CROW THAN TURKEY.

The Rhode Island farmer came across, as usual, with the president's turkey. The democrats supplied the crow.—Fort Worth Record.

The laws of Oklahoma are a trifle hard on the county judge in one particular. He is expected to collect a fee of $3.00 for each marriage ceremony at which he officiates, but must turn it over to the county treasurer.
Not a very strong inducement for him to make a bargain price for weddings as he might otherwise feel inclined to do.

Providence seems to be on the side of the consumer of coal this season. This warm weather enables the consumer to give the merry ha, ha, to the mine operators who sought to recoup from the consumer what they lost as a result of the strike.

What Makes a Good Hostess.

Two things are essential to a successful party—agreeable guests and a good hostess. The first can be found quite easily—most people are willing to be entertained. The second —well, look out for a good hostess; she is as rare as strawberries in winter. The good hostess is she who likes entertaining—people generally do the things they like well. She likes having people—that is the great secret. She makes everyone feel that they have given her pleasure by coming to her home, therefore she possesses the first great essential—geniality. There is no don't care-whether-you-come-or-not sort of style; there is a warmth in voice and manner which spells "welcome" to the guest. The atmosphere then is warm. But this is not enough. It must be kept at an even temperature. Everything likely to chill or inflame must be carefully excluded.
The good hostess wants her guests to enjoy themselves and she lays her plans so that it is their own fault if they do not. The people who want to meet each other are brought together and left together. The good hostess has a quick eye to see when people have had enough of one another. She monopolizes no one, but she finds an opportunity of giving a little of her own time to each guest. No one is allowed to go away feeling that he must have been asked to "fill up." She makes it her business to see that her guests have a good time and she leaves nothing to chance. Her plan of campaign is mapped out beforehand, although she has no "feeling" in the matter if her scheme is suddenly upset. She knows that the happiest parties are the impromptu parties. Finally, she feeds her guests; no one comes home "just starving." The procedure is quite simple, really. The good hostess just remembers that the party is for the guests. She takes no pains to amuse herself, and consequently can give all her time and attention to them.—Exchange.

CREDIT MEN TO ASK LEGISLATURE FOR LAW

Oklahoma City, Nov. 25.—A meeting of the legislative committee of the Credit Men's association will probably be held within a few days for the purpose of deciding upon plans for securing certain legislation which will be advocated to the legislature which convenes in January.

Among the most important of the projects coming up is to place more stringent penalties against checks being issued by persons who have no funds in the bank upon which the check is drawn, or who have insufficient funds there with which to meet the check when presented for payment.

The association in advocating these laws will act in conjunction with the Retailers' association who will also seek to secure the same legislation.

Marvelous Progress of Aviation.

Two short years has witnessed the advancement from theory to an established fact of the science of navigating the air. On a raw fall day, two years ago, a notable group of senators, congressmen, members of the cabinet and justices of the supreme court stood for many hours on the parade ground at Fort Meyer, Virginia, eagerly awaiting a view of a flying machine. The notables waited patiently, praying that the wind might die down to permit a flight.
When a gun boomed out the sunset hour the silent Orville Wright emerged from a hastily built shed far down the field and gazed at some nearby trees. His sharp eye detected the slight vibration of a leaf as it was kissed by a gentle zephyr, and he waved his hand, indicating that there would be no flight.

At Belmont park, Long island, a few weeks ago, a forty-mile wind was blowing across the aerodrome, chilling the few spectators who had not deserted the field rather than stand before the piercing gale. Yet five aeroplanes, including the large-est and smallest, the Antoinette and the Demoiselle, essayed to fly in the face of what was literally a gale; and two biplanes, built by the same men who had refused to fly two years before while a leaf stirred, climbed thousands of feet into the air.

The contrast was made possible by the wonderful development of the aeroplane which has marked the last two years.—Popular Mechanics.

Record Jump by a Dog.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 24.—Jumping 200 feet off the Columbia river bridge at Wenatchee, Wash., southwest of Spokane, into the Columbia river, and returning to its master apparently unharmd, was the experience of a shepherd dog, owned by the manager of a garage. The dog's master had received a call that an automobile was out of gasoline on the Douglas county side of the river and he set out to carry a supply, the dog following behind. When the helpless machine had been filled the two automobiles started for the city over the bridge. In the center of the bridge one machine endeavored to circle around the other and get ahead. The dog, seeing that it was to be caught in a trap, jumped from the bridge.
It being dark the master considered that to be the end of the dog. About two hours afterward a scratch was heard at the door and upon its being opened the dog entered, wagging its tail, and shoved its nose into its master's hand. Aside from a drenching the dog showed no signs of injury after battling with the swift current in the Columbia river.

"Pussyfoot" May Come Back.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 25.— Dr. E. C. Dinwiddle of Washington who figured conspicuously in the statehood prohibition campaign, while here in the interest of the National Inter-Church Temperance Federation said that the federation had appealed to the United States government to send W. E. Johnson back to Oklahoma from Oregon to assist in enforcing the prohibition law. Johnson was the most effective terror to the bootleggers of Indian territory during Territorial days. His efforts are declared to be wanted in connection with the enforcement of law on Indian reservations.

ENGLISH SUFFRAGETTES GIVEN HARD LABOR night for smashing windows in gov-

In pronouncing the sentence Sir Albert Derutzen, chief magistrate of the metropolitan police courts, said:

past."

Buffalo Ranch Goes to Mexico.

San Antonio, Texas.—Announcement is made that the largest buffalo herd remaining in America is to be taken from Goodnight, Texas, by the famous Charles Goodnight, owner of the buffalo, to Mexico. Representatives of the department of agriculture of Coahuila, Mexico, are now on their way to the big Goodnight ranch in the Texas Panhandle to make arrangements. The entire Goodnight ranch, it is said, is to be moved, with its thousands of head of stock. Mr. Goodnight has been experimenting for years along lines aiming to perpetuate the now almost extinct American bison. He has been breeding to the pure buffalo cattle, and these called "cattalo" very closely resemble the buffalo.

The Goodnight ranch is but one of the many that are now being moved to Mexico. The cutting up of the large cattle ranges into small farms has been the cause, to a great degree, of the exodus. Gradual encroachments of the homesteader and the farmer are driving the cattlemen out of business in the United States.
There is no room for the great herds.
The farmer from the eastern, southern and central western states is crowding out the stockmen and as Iowa and other states show a falling off in population, the western states are showing an increase along with a decrease of live stock prairies.
There are many who point to Mexico in answer to the question—where will the United States get its beef supply in a few years from now, if the farmer continues his encroachment upon the ranchman? For years Mexico has been the home of the big haciendado, the man who controls millions of acres of grazing lands.
The southern republic has bought its cotton and its corn in a large measure, and its wheat, from countries where there is more agriculture.

Land is too valuable in southwest Texas to permit of the retention of the big ranch, where only cattle are grown. Almost every day, there arsals of cattle ranches ranging in size from forty thousand to as high as two hundred or three hundred thousand acres. These are divided into smaller tracts, water for irrigation is secured and they are placed upon the market.

Debating Popular at the University.

While men are surging and insur-ging in our national legislature and new champions of the people are every day coming to light as possible directors of a political upheaval which some declare imminent, the orators and statesmen of a future day are being made in the colleges and universities of the land. The great college debates which are every year held between various institutions of higher learning are proof positive of the rapid strides of the undergraduate toward the craft of statesman-

A Lenoir Lady, After Two Weeks Grinding Labor, Feels Better Than Ever.

Lenoir, N. C.—"I am not tired at all, and am stouter than I have ever been," writes Mrs. Kate Waters, of Lenoir, N. C., "although I have just finished a two-weeks' wash. I lay my strength to Cardui, the woman's tonic. I have taken a lot of it and I can never praise it enough for what it has done for me. I can never thank you enough for the advice you gave me, to take Cardui, for since taking it I look so well and am stout as a mule."

You are urged to take Cardui, that gentle, vegetable tonic, for weak women. Its use will strengthen and build up your system, relieve or prevent headache, backache and the ailments of weak women.

It will surely help you, as it has helped thousands of others, in the past 50 years.

points at issues set forth in such eloquent and masterly manner that the work could be but little improved upon by the majority of those who represent the American people in the congress at Washington.

At the University of Oklahoma debating is perhaps more popular than anywhere else in the west. Why this is so no one can say. It may be because in a student body made up of elements both from the north and the south are found mingled the eloquence of the Cavalier and the logic of the Yankee. Oklahoma has always been able to a little more than hold her own on the rostrum with the older and larger neighboring universities. This year a debate in which each school will be represented by three men will be held with Kansas at Lawrence. It is also likely that a contest will be arranged with Missouri, Colorado or Denver university.
The prize offered last year by the Oklahoma congressmen and a number of standing individual prizes have recently given a powerful stimulus to debating at Oklahoma.

Mrs. Galbraith Entertains Little Folks

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. C. A. Galbraith entertained a jolly crowd of little folks in honor of her niece and nephew, Frances and James Buchanan of Norman. She was assisted by Mesdames W. H. Ebeey and A. K. Thornton and Miss Elizabeth Ingram. After the young guests had been given the best time imaginable an ice course was served. ### Funeral Services of U. L. Wood.

U. L. Wood, a prominent druggist of Pithugh, Okla., nephew of Captain Wood of this city, who died there several days ago was buried at Rose Hill cemetery this afternoon, funeral services were conducted by Rev. ### How Pennies Count.

Chisholm Barnett, one of the hustling boys who handles the Daily News, has just completed his monthly payments on a $200 lot in Oklahoma City. He began work for the News about a year and a half ago and has been applying his earnings on his investment and now has something to show how easy it is for any boy to get a start in life by close attention to business and by saving his nickles.

In Justice Court.

Yesterday a hard fought suit was tried before Justice Brown growing out of an attachment filed by Watson of Francis against J. R. Cox. The trial was not concluded until a late hour in the evening, and now the jurymen are threatening a damage suit against Judge Brown on account of having missed the carnival. The jury decided the case in favor of Watson Bros.

Fair Site Secured.

J. W. Davis, one of the boosters of the Pontotoc county fair, informs us that the company has secured a tract of twenty acres adjoining the city park from J. W. Hays. The incorporators of the enterprise are in dead earnest about the business and we predict the best county fair in the state for next fall.

A Suggestion to Judge Brown.

It has been suggested that if Justice Brown would only arrange an arch of electric lights in his office under which the young people might stand while he welds their hearts together, he might do much to further increase the growing popularity of his office as a resort for young lovers. A timely suggestion.

Cotton Unchanged.

Cotton stands in the same notch as yesterday, selling from 13.50 to 14.75. The quantity brought in, however, is dwindling down rather small, although this being Saturday more than usual has been brought in.

ADA AND SULPHUR PLAY FOOT BALL

The foot ball team of the deaf school at Sulphur arrived this morning and a hotly contested game with the normal began about 2:30. We have been unable to get the result, however, before going to press.

It will be remembered that these teams recently played a tie game at Sulphur, neither side being able to score. The Ada boys were very hopeful of a victory today, however.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Fred Tucker returned from a business trip to Konawa this morning.

Attorney J. D. Blanton of Pauls Valley is attending court here today.

Mrs. W. Davis and her mother-in-law, Mrs. M. A. Davis will leave this afternoon for Oklahoma City to hear the noted evangelist Russell preach.

Prof. J. O. McMinn informs us that the Homer school began its fall term Monday. Most of the cotton in that neighborhood is out and a good attendance is expected next week.

Geo. Thomason of Knox was in to see us today and assured us that when it becomes necessary to circulate the petition for the pardon of the editor for whatever variations from the naked truth we make in the interest of our people, he will volunteer as one to pass it around among the boys.

Silver Trophy to Oklahomans.

Kansas City, Nov. 25.—Oklahoma won the silver trophy at the Mid-Western Interstate Rifle Tournament held here today, the winning team was one of the two entered by the First Oklahoma Regiment of the National Guards.

The final score out of 2,400 targets at all ranges, was:

Oklahoma, first team, 1847; Second Kansas, 1,729; Third Missouri, 1,702. Fifty-fifth Iowa, 1,615; First Missouri, 1,605; Fifty-sixth Iowa, 1,573.

The feature of the closing event was the rifle work of Sergeant R. R. Jarboe of the Oklahoma first team, who made 94 out of a possible 100 targets on rapid fire skirmish.

Consulting Engineer Arrives.

Oklahoma Gets Convention.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 25.—Oklahoma City was today selected as the place for the next session of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress in 1911.

Cheap Power for Farmers.

Electric central power stations for farming communities have been growing in favor in Prussia within the last few years, especially in Pomerania. The aim has been to provide cheap power and light to farmers and to get them living in the country, and the current from each station is distributed to neighboring towns, villages, estates and farms. The largest of the stations—that of Beitz—controls a network of lines 117 miles in length. Another controls 83 miles, and there are numerous other stations already established or being built. Whole villages and small towns have been connected. Associations of landed proprietors are the chief owners, but aid has been given by the provincial representative chamber.

Bathing Brahmins.

Constant bathing is all the time a big part of the religion of the Brahmin. One bath a day, at least, is absolutely indispensable and compulsory, and those who want to prove how badly good they are do it two or three times a day. Remember, we white folk got our way of daily bathing from India. It was brought back to England by the old nabobs who had contracted the strange, uncomfortable bath from years in India. This was about 1830.

Unfortunate Plant.

Mrs. Khallers—My! What makes your rubber plant look so frayed?
Mrs. Fennler (wife of the noted author)—Oh, that absent-minded husband of mine has been using the poor thing for an eraser.

NO "LAZY" CHILDREN

THEY ARE EITHER ILL OR POORLY NOURISHED.

New Scientific Pedagogics Declares the Normal Child is Interested, Alert, Bright Minded and Full of Physical Vivacity.

In many ways the world is growing less cruel. For this we must largely thank the scientific spirit which is daily recognizing more and more of the affairs of life which belong to its department. It is coming into fashion not to kick the man who is down, but to call a committee to inquire into why he is down and that leads naturally to helping him up. The new method is to be welcomed most of all as it bears upon the destinies of little children.

The new scientific pedagogics no longer divides children summarily into good and bad, stupid and clever. On the contrary, it takes close cognizance of the wonderful relation between mind and body, stomach and brain and learns thereby that persons, and above all children, are much more naturally divided into the sick or the well, the hungry or the fed, the weak or the strong.

Both in this country and in Europe investigations of this matter have been made, with significant results. One fact proved by them is that there is no such thing as a "lazy" child. The normal child is interested, alert, bright minded, full of waking curiosities about the world into which he has come and endowed with an almost unquenchable physical vivacity. What, then is the matter with the little, inert, stupid, dull-eyed creatures for ever at the bottom of the class, who never put a question or seem to pass a given point?

The matter is that they are ill. Some of them are hungry, and it is as hopeless to expect a child to study well when he needs food as it would be to expect a fire that needs fuel to burn well. The hunger may be due to an actual lack of food or it may be that the teeth are in such poor condition that the child cannot chew and therefore does not digest. Or it may be that the food offered to it at home is entirely unsuited to its needs.

Some of the children cannot hear well and some cannot see. They do not complain because they do not know what is the matter. They accept constant rebuke and defeat with the dumb mystification of ignorance. Many of them have never drawn one natural breath since their birth, owing to the presence of enlarged tonsils and adenoids.

These children can never compete with their fellows until all these handicaps have been removed. Some recent investigations made by a French physician show that among well nourished children only 19 per cent. have physical defects, while among the poorly nourished over 80 per cent. suffer from these defects.

This question of feeding is being met in many cities both here and abroad by the supplying of a substantial luncheon either free or at a nominal cost.—Youth's Companion.

American "Outs."

We think it is both fair and desirable that some American novelists should now speak some plain truths to an American audience about the Englishman's love of orderly procedure which makes a London crowd so easy to handle and an English village a delight to the American eye that is accustomed to find tin cans, ash heaps and broken-down fences too often in plain view of the passerby on a public street. If it were not a pretty hot summer and there were not already twice as many societies for social reform existing in this country as we really have any practical need for, we should suggest the creation of a new international organization to be entitled in American fashion, "B. P. O. B. L. O. A. E. G. T. D." (that is to say, the Society for Promoting a Combination of British Love of Order with American Enthusiasm for Getting Things Done), and should nominate Mrs. de la Pasture to be its first president.—The Outlook.

Lorton and Moving Pictures.

Justice Lorton of the United States supreme court, comes from Nashville, Tenn. One day just before the adjournment of congress he met on Pennsylvania avenue in Washington Robert H. Watkins, a correspondent for southern newspapers.

"Bob," said the eminent jurist, "I have made a practice for several years to take my little granddaughter to all the moving-picture shows in Nashville. The other day we started out to see all of them in this town, but there were too many. Let's go and finish up the last right now."—Popular Magazine.

New Revision.

"They tell me your extremely affable acquaintance, Mr. Plunk, is dreadfully disagreeable to his family."

"Yes, he's a book agent abroad and a wolf at home."

Not Quite Ready.

Mr. Recentmarrie—Have you made any of that peanut butter yet, dear?
Mrs. Recentmarrie—No, John; I haven't everything ready; I bought the peanuts today, but had no money left for the churn.

No Long Hat Pins in Berlin.

Berlin, Nov. 25.—The police president of Berlin has declared war on the dangerously protruding hat pin. In a proclamation issued today he calls the attention of the women of the city to the many recent reports of injuries inflicted by hat pins that projected beyond the rims of women's hats. The accidents have been especially frequent in street cars and usually men are the victims.

The president calls upon the women either to cease using long pins or turn the points so that they will not be a constant menace to the traveling public. He adds that while he expects that the women will comply with his reasonable request, he is prepared, in the event that they do not, to adopt compulsory measures.
